

FIND A GREAT JOB AT DFAS COLUMBUS!

A great opportunity.

The 2005 Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) Process has mandated the consolidation of 26 Defense Finance and Accounting Services (DFAS) locations nationally to five: Cleveland, Ohio; Indianapolis, Indiana; Limestone, Maine; Rome, New York and Columbus, Ohio. This represents a gain to the Columbus area of over 500 highly skilled new positions.

A great career.

DFAS Columbus offers great employment opportunities with competitive pay, great benefits, state-of-the art technology and extraordinary possibilities for growth and learning. DFAS is the world's largest finance and accounting operation, providing services for the Department of Defense military services — Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps — and Defense agencies. We need bright, motivated individuals to join our team.

A great place to work.

DFAS Columbus is the most modern DFAS facility in the nation, featuring a host of extraordinary amenities for business and convenience not found at other locations, or even at leading private accounting firms. DFAS Columbus currently has more than 2,000 employees. The primary building was dedicated in 1999 and is located on the beautiful campus of the Defense Supply Center, Columbus (DSCC), a federal complex that employs more than 6,000 highly skilled individuals.

A great place to live.

Columbus is the nation's 15th largest city and offers all the amenities you'd expect from a city of that stature. But it also maintains Midwestern family values and a comfortable pace that make it one of the most friendly, welcoming cities anywhere. Columbus boasts beautiful, safe neighborhoods, a diverse population, an outstanding choice of schools and world-class, higher education opportunities at 18 different institutions. There are entertainment options for everyone, including professional and major college sports, a wealth of recreational and cultural opportunities, abundant nightlife and incredible shopping. The city's hospitals and healthcare facilities are annually ranked among the nation's best. Its thriving economy offers great job opportunities for the whole family.

A great position at DFAS.

Positions at DFAS may be available immediately for Accountants, Accounting Technicians and Financial Analysts. All applicants must be U.S. citizens and will be subject to a background/security investigation which includes a credit history.

Accounting Technicians are responsible for recording financial transactions for Defense Department appropriations and expenditures; attention to detail is highly important. Technicians classify, analyze and summarize transactions; maintain, reconcile and close accounts; prepare, control or post documents reflecting necessary entries; and prepare transaction-related reports and statements. Accounting systems are highly automated and computer processing skills are highly recommended.

Financial Analysts provide professional finance advice and assistance to their customers, i.e., Navy, Army, Air Force, Marine Corps and other Department of Defense agencies. Their primary function is to conduct reviews and analyses of financial programs or operations through examination of existing regulations, internal controls, functional requirements, policies and procedures and transactions or system outputs.

Accountants prepare and analyze financial statements for their customers, i.e., Navy, Army, Air Force, Marine Corps and other Department of Defense agencies. This includes providing professional operational accounting services, management advice and customer assistance. Accountants contribute to the design of new accounting systems and more efficient and effective business processes.

Accounting candidates must have completed 24 semester hours of accounting coursework (including up to six semesters of business law). The most competitive Accountant and Financial Analyst candidates will have a bachelor's degree in accounting or a business-related degree.

DFAS Columbus is an equal employment opportunity employer.
